.png" alt="Reload external window - Office" width="300" height="108" />Reload external window:When some windows that you have opened in OI use local file for data storage. If you do not want to see them in the "Sidebar" anymore, you need to reload them in the "Office View". There is a button named "Reload this external window" located in the upper left corner of the "External Window" toolbar. If you click it, the process will be similar to the process explained above. You can see that this is not a new process but instead a different way to reload a window that uses local data file. In fact, even if you save the file, it will be loaded again when you open the window. If you click the "Office View" toolbar, you will see the following different icons: Now let's take a look at the first of them — "Toggle Pin". When you click the Toggle Pin icon, you will see a new pin on your taskbar 82157476af
